Welcome Message

Christian Raeuber
Director

Dear G7 Members,

As we prepare to come together in Antalya, it's worth remembering what makes this network different. G7 is built on trust, professionalism, and long-term thinking.

This conference is your opportunity to deepen partnerships, exchange perspectives, and invest in relationships that last beyond this event. The real value of these few days is not only in the schedule, but in the standards we uphold and the conversations we choose to have.

I wish you a focused, rewarding, and successful conference and look forward to welcoming you soon.

Christian Raeuber
Director

Welcome Message

Melvin Xavier
Director

Dear G7 Members,

The countdown is on, and Antalya is calling.

This year's G7 Conference is built to be both productive and genuinely enjoyable. Your days will be filled with meetings and conversations, and your evenings are where the atmosphere really comes alive. We're kicking things off with a Turkish-themed Welcome Cocktail, and wrapping things up in style with our Casino Royale Gala Night, so yes, pack accordingly.

G7 has always been about people first. Use this week to reconnect, meet new partners, and make the kind of connections that don't happen on email or Zoom. We're excited to have you with us.

Melvin Xavier
Director

Places to visit in Antalya

Duden Waterfalls (Duden Selalesi)

Duden Waterfalls (Duden Selalesi)

The Duden Waterfalls sit at the end of the river of the same name, which winds its way through the Taurus Mountains before tumbling from a cliff into a valley next to the Mediterranean. The falls consist of two cascades, and the upper part is nearly 50 feet (15 meters) tall and 65 feet (20 meters) wide.

Perge (Perga)

Just northeast of Antalya lies the region's most significant Roman ruins. Dating to the Bronze Age, the city of Perge was originally settled by the Hittites, but under Roman occupation grew to become one of the most beautiful and scholarly cities of the ancient world, attracting important thinkers such as physician Asklepiades, philosopher Varius, and Apollonius, a pupil of Archimedes.

Antalya Old Town (Kaleiçi)

Antalya's Old Town (Kaleiçi) remains the heart of this modern Turkish city. Home to a number of historic monuments, it's also the city's most atmospheric district—a maze of narrow winding streets dotted with traditional wooden houses, bars, restaurants, and Ottoman-style boutique hotels.

Antalya Marina (Kaleiçi Yat Limanı)

Antalya Marina (Kaleiçi Yat Limanı) is the heart of the city. It stretches along the waterfront beneath the steep cobbled streets of Antalya's Old Town, known as Kaleiçi. With cruise ships, ferries, yachts, and fishing boats constantly arriving and departing, this historic harbor is buzzing with activity at all hours and is a popular hub for both locals and visitors.

Places to visit in Antalya

Aspendos

Founded around 1000 BC, the ancient Greco-Roman city of Aspendos is best-known for its impressive Roman theater, one of the most remarkably preserved in the world. Designed by Greek architect Zeno and built in the second century AD, the theater seats up to 7,000 people and is still used as a venue today.

Köprülü Canyon

Running for 14 miles (22.5 kilometers) between dramatic rock stacks and sheer cliffs—reaching up 1,312 feet (400 meters) high in places—Köprülü Canyon is one of Turkey’s (officially the Republic of Türkiye) most spectacular natural wonders. Carved out of the limestone cliffs by the Koprucay River, the canyon is the centrepiece of Köprülü Canyon National park.

Clock Tower

Standing on the edges of Antalya Old Town (Kaleiçi), the Antalya Clock Tower (Antalya Saat Kulesi) testifies to the region’s storied past. Built on the remnants of the city’s Roman walls and converted into a crenelated clock tower by the Ottomans in the early 20th Century, this stone fixture is an instantly recognizable Antalya landmark.

Hadrian’s Gate

Marking the eastern entrance to Kaleiçi—Antalya’s historic Old Town—Hadrian’s Gate is the last of the city’s ancient gates, dating back to AD 130. Named in honor of Roman emperor Hadrian after his visit to the city, the triple-arched gateway is decorated with marble columns and is one of Antalya’s most distinctive landmarks.
